Solid

The Solid Dining Room Set combines the powerful look of metal with the natural character of varnished wood. Solid reflects a refined taste with its handle-free cupboards, high legs, and modest lines.

You can use the benches of different colours and patterns in the Solid Dining Room Set by combining them with the chairs.

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Details to be decided when choosing a table for the dining area are the number of people to sit at the table, the area where the table will be placed, how the seating arrangement will be made, the dimensions of the tables and chairs, the circulation area that should be left around the table. Once these are determined these based on the needs, usage habits, lifestyle, and the venue, of course, the next key step is choosing the table which requires figuring out the size and shape of the table and chairs.

Solid Dining Room Set reflects an understanding of minimalist and simplistic décor in every detail.

The Solid Sideboard comes with an open shelf option. Solid Mirrors on the other hand, add a nice touch of motion to the series with their leather hanging straps and geometric shapes. You can use multiple mirrors symmetrically.

Bend

The dining room set in the Bend Collection emphasizes the design with its simple and stylish appearance as well as the profile details that form the general framework in the modules. The walnut-shaded decoration which is used with the glossy body captures the focus in the dining rooms on the one hand, and provides the visual balance in the space on the other. Bend Dining Room Set, which has a geometric rhythm in itself, also gains integrity with its oval bronze handles and leg form. Membrane covers with fuga detail increase the perception of the depth in the product.

The geometric handle design, which softens the sharp lines of the modules, also inspires Bend's Console Chest of Drawers Mirror. Thus the visual language of the series is created.

Bend Console's membrane covers with fuga details have a stylish and an appealing look with their warm walnut-shaded surface and bronze glossy details.

Bend Chair, which is in two different fabric colours, continues to feature the quilted stitching detail in the collection. Extendible and fixed dimensions of the Bend Dining Table allow selection according to the sizes of the space.

BOOKCASES AND SOFA BACKREST MODULES

An outstanding arrangement can be made according to the decoration style and the data of the space with colourful and living details of the living spaces, the bookcases and the sofa backrest modules, which are their companions. Sometimes they can only be used for a decorative display and sometimes in order to separate spaces.

BOOKCASE SELECTION

Which room of the house the bookcase will be used in is an important detail that affects the choice. For example, a bookcase to be used in the living room should be considered as a decorative element as well as functionality. More voluminous and spectacular models can be preferred in large spaces and slim lined, simple designs can be preferred in narrow spaces. When choosing one or several bookcases to cover one wall of the room, its body should be the same color as the wall so that the space does not look smaller than it is. When buying a bookcase, the decoration style, the material and colour of the bookcase should be taken into account. For example, if it is not possible to achieve a complete harmony with the existing furniture, a different shade from the colour palette in the room can be used.

Again, a metal and wooden bookcase, which does not have overwhelming details, can be a good choice for modern-style living rooms.

Bueno raises the dose of allure in every place it is included with its wood and brass metal material. If the wall surface allows, you can achieve an elegant wall unit by using two bookcase units side by side.

BUENO
